Cambodia – The Computershare Bus

The Computershare Bus will allow us to take all the primary school children to school in one trip instead of having to make three journeys. It will save on petrol and will get the children to school on time, which is not the case now.

There is a stigma in being an orphan in Cambodia and often they are called names at school. The sheer WOW factor of the bus will certainly raise their status among their school friends!

My plan, when I return in late November is to find a date where we can take all of us to the beach at Sihanoukville, so we can "christen" our wonderful purple Computershare Bus.

I already have the children working on a pet name for the bus and will get back to you with a short list for you to choose!

Many heartfelt thanks to our new friends at Computershare from all of us here at Sunrise.

Love and light
