DUSI CANOE MARATHON 2010

River Side Report from Stan Lorge

Today has been another very hot and humid day.

As with last year, Day 2 saw the CAL team slip back in the rankings but, with a lot of running tomorrow, what was lost today should be made up.

Eric and Thomas are in 4th place and only 3 seconds from of a podium position which they are confident of getting tomorrow. Lucas and John have improved their position from 11th to 10th while Zondile and Wiseman are in 16th. Kwanda and Lance unfortunately broke their boat at one of the rapids and slipped from the top 20 but are still in with a chance to win the under 21 title. Our other team lies in 28th.

First and second are separated by less than a second and third and fourth by three seconds.

We're looking forward to a fantastic finale!

You can catch all today's action tonight on SuperSport One at 20:00.

DUSI CANOE MARATHON 2010

River Side Report from Stan Lorge

We were up at 03:15 this morning to get to the river and wish good luck to Martin and the Change a Life paddlers. Now we are at the end of Day 1 and what a great finish! Eric and Thomas made Dusi history by being the first two black paddlers to finish on the podium – in 3rd position. We were all so excited to see our guys coming in with 6th, 9th, 11th and 18th – we have 10 in the Top 20. Kwanda and Lance are leading the under 21s.

This year's event is the K2 boats with their doubles crews. Martin has tipped Michael Mbanjwa and Ant Stott to take the race this year – at present they are lying in 2nd position.

The press is keeping Martin busy and our Change a Life team is getting huge media attention.

Tomorrow is a big day – more paddling than running – we have every confidence that our guys will continue to shine.

You can catch all the action on SuperSport One this evening at 20:00.

DUSI CANOE MARATHON 2010

Good Luck!

The Hansa Powerade Dusi is set to start in just under 10 hours. Martin and his team have been training hard and this year, hope to do even better than last time. He feels that six of his paddlers could be in the top 10 teams – very much in gold medal contention.

Stan, Ursula and Mnandi are on their way there to give river-side support and to cheer on the Change a Life team.

This year, will see the best TV coverage ever, with 30 dedicated hours on SuperSport! Here is the full schedule - the first half hour broadcast is at 20:00 tomorrow evening on SuperSport One.
